Faith and Patience

Faith and patience, I have heard these two Godly attributes phrased as, “The Power Twins”, *Together, they produce every time. Patience is a working power. When faith has a tendency to waver, it’s patience that comes to faith’s aid to make it stand. The power of patience is necessary to undergird faith.

Patience without faith, however, has no power to call into reality the things desired. Since faith is the substance of things we hope for, patience without faith has no substance. On the other hand, faith without patience many times will fail to stand firm on the evidence of the written Word that gives “title deed” to things not seen. Jesus told Peter He had prayed for him that his faith fail not. Without the power of patience at work, sense knowledge—the things we see—can overwhelm our faith that is based on what the Word of God says .

Patience, then, undergirds our faith and gives it endurance to persevere until the answer comes.

Faith is a powerful force. It always works. It’s not that our faith is weak and needs strength, but without the power of patience, we stop its force from working in our lives because of our negative words and actions. It’s our faith, and we can either put it into action or stop it from working .

In Hebrews 10:35-38 we are admonished to, “Cast not away therefore your confidence [or faith], which hath great recompense of reward. For ye have need of patience, that, after ye have done the will of God, ye might receive the promise...the just shall live by faith.” Now, remember, Romans says that tribulation works patience, and Hebrews 10 says that we have need of patience—because patience works experience. Experience is the reward. Patience produces the reward of experiencing the answer.

“For ye have need of patience, that, after ye have done the will of God,” or you could say it this way, “After you have acted on the Word of God, employ the power of patience and you will receive the promise of that Word.” Hebrews 6:12 tells us that through faith and patience we inherit 24 the promises. Faith is acting on the Word. God’s Word is His will. After you have exerted the force of faith by acting on the Word, or the will of God, then patience comes into action to produce the experience of victory! With the power of patience at work, the experience of faith’s result is inevitable.
