The Renewing of Your Mind

Romans 12:2 (NASB)
 And do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, so that you may prove what the will of God is, that which is good and acceptable and perfect.

Welcome Guests!

Thank you for visiting us today! We hope you help yourself to a refreshment in the Hospitality Area before or after the service.

Renewing your mind

(Tammy Uber)

Romans 12:2 (NASB)

And do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, so that you may prove what the will of God is, that which is good and acceptable and perfect.

Conform means: to be similar to or the same as something.

I don't want to be the same as the world with its ideas, fears, prejudices, and corrupt thoughts. I can't believe the world, as we are seeing it right now, is pleasing to our Father God.

Transform means: make a thorough or dramatic change in the form, appearance, or character of.

I want my thoughts and corresponding actions to be acceptable to my Heavenly Father, so there are areas in my life that I must make a change in.

I came across the following article on the web, as I was looking at Biblestudytools.com, last week. It was so good, I wanted to share it with you.

“Renewing your mind aligns your mind with the truth of God’s Word by learning to recognize the lies of the enemy, replace them with the truth of God’s Word and then reinforce that truth every time the enemy comes at them with those same lies.

Renewed thoughts resulting in new beliefs help you engage with God’s plan for your life because thoughts fuel your beliefs. Godly Kingdom-Focused thoughts are great fuel for your godly beliefs, while ungodly, fear-driven lies and half-truths fuel ungodly beliefs.

Renewing of the Mind: Ways to Renew Your Mind Today

Recognize: Intentionally “capture” each thought that comes into your mind and compare it to God’s Word and His promises for your life. Ask yourself “Does this thought that I’m having right now reflect what God’s Word says about this situation or does it reflect a lie that I know doesn’t represent God’s heart for me?”

Replace: If the thoughts you’re having don’t agree with God’s Word, then replace them with promises from God’s Word. It can literally be as simple as asking the Holy Spirit to bring to your remembrance a scripture that is opposite of the lie you may be faced with currently. You can also just do a quick internet search for scripture verses based on the lie you’re trying to replace. Remember, thoughts are like seeds and whatever you allow to be planted in the garden of your heart will bring forth a harvest in your life. Choose your seeds wisely.

Reinforce: Every time you are flooded with those same types of thoughts that don’t agree with God’s best for your life, simply reject and replace them with God’s Word. One way you can accelerate this process is to write down your newly created Biblical affirmations on note cards, laminate them and carry them with you for easy access. You can also post them in places that you see often like your office wall, your desk, your car, or even your bathroom mirror. This can feel tedious at first, but as you do so in the context of gratitude, faith, and expectancy God’s presence will infuse this process, making it become more and more natural.”

It is a process, but be diligent in the Word of God, and the Word will change you.
